- Fruit. Available in the open market but at very high prices.
- Cloth. Very scarce with only men's clothing available.
- 2. Host of the restaurants in Humany have been notionalized. The few remaining in private hands are not expected to continue in business.
- 3. Partiers have been issued three ration cards. Ration cards "A" and "3" indicate the quantity of food which the farmer must deliver to the government at the government price. ... hon the farmer supplies the proper amount, he is given a "C" card which allows him to buy goods for himself. This "C" card also tells him how such of his produce he can sell on the open market. Far ers with large holdings sometimes cannot supply the amount of food required by the government and must buy food from small uncontrolled farmers at black market prices to overcome the deficiency. One example may be cited. The government price for an englis 85 fillers and the far or must pay 1.5 forints to obtain an egg to fulfil his quota.
- 4. Leaders of village Communist Councils receive a salary of 1,500 forints a month. People in the villages couplain openly about these large salaries and refuse to have social contact with the leaders.

5. In May 1951, the government issued an order that all dogs should be clipped and the clippings sent to the government. At first, the order was considered a joke, but a later government order compelled all dog owners to bring their dogs to centers for clipping. Heavy penalties were decreed for non-compliance. It was stated that the dogs' hair was to be used in the manufacture of clothing.
